CHARACTER AND FITNESS

Law schools are charged with determining the character and fitness of applicants to law school. A prior conviction of a misdemeanor involving a serious crime, felony, a history of neglect of fiscal responsibilities, or other conduct may present significant challenges for applicants to gain admission to the bar and the practice of law. A "yes" answer to any or all of the following questions below does not necessarily preclude admission to Phoenix School of Law. Please be aware that your law school application is part of your record in applying for admission to the bar and the failure to disclose an act or event can be more significant and subject to more severe consequences than the act itself.

Have you ever been placed on academic probation, academically dismissed or found guilty of an honor code violation?  NO  YES
If yes, please provide a detailed explanation including dates and additional documentation as needed. You may use an electronic attachment.

Have you ever been sanctioned or disciplined for academic dishonesty, plagiarism or cheating? Include any charges of academic dishonesty currently pending against you.  NO  YES

Have you ever, as an adult or juvenile, been found guilty of (after trial or plea of guilty) or pled no-contest to violating the law (whether or not the record has been sealed or expunged)? Minor traffic violations, except those involving alcohol or drugs, need not be reported.  NO  YES

Are there any charges of violating the law currently pending or expected to be brought against you?  NO  YES

Has any educational institution, governmental or administrative agency (including any branch of the Armed Services) or employer ever taken disciplinary action against you?  NO  YES

Have you ever filed, or are you in the process of filing, a petition for bankruptcy under any chapter of the bankruptcy code?  NO  YES

Note: If you answered "YES" to any of these six questions, please attach a detailed explanation, including supporting documentation as needed. You may use an electronic attachment. State Bar Examiners may regard failure to disclose this information as reflecting adversely on the applicant's fitness to practice law. It is your responsibility to consult the rules and regulations of the Bar Admitting Authority of the state in which you intend to practice to determine whether these incidents might affect your admission to the Bar. You have a continuing duty to disclose any offenses under this section after the filing of this application and through your graduation from this law school. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary action, including dismissal. Please see Character and Fitness Statement on instruction sheet.
